THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN 24.061.01, 24.095.00 AND 24.095.01

What's the difference between the filters 24.061.01, 24.095.00, 24.095.01?
They look similar, don't they?

Externally they are similar but differ in terms of filtering element and group sensor.
In particular:

- The filter element of 24.095.00 and 24.095.01 has a higher performance compared to that of 24.061.01. If you install the wrong p/n, the filter life is not guaranteed.
- The group sensor installed on 24.095.01 differs from that of 24.061.01 and 24.095.00 in the way it communicates with the control unit. If you install the wrong p/n, the control unit will advise the presence of water even if it's not true.

HOW TO KNOW WHICH P/N TO INSTALL?

To know which is the correct PN for your vehicle, follow these steps:

- Check the OE code on UFI catalogue
- Check which is the correct reference on UFI catalogue
- Double verify the correct UFI code searching for the month and year of production of your vehicle in the list of the applications below.
